Over long periods, emerging markets investing offers diversification benefits relative to an all-U.S. portfolio.

*Effective July 1, 2018, the "net" version of the benchmark replaced the "gross" version of the benchmark. The "net" version of the benchmark assumes the reinvestment of dividends after the deduction of withholding taxes. Historical benchmark representations have been restated to show net of withholding taxes. Effective January 1, 2018, the benchmark was changed to the MSCI Arabian Markets & Africa 10/40 Investable Market Index Net. Prior to January 1, 2018, the benchmark was S&P Emerging Market/Frontier Middle East & Africa Broad Market Index ex Israel Net. Prior to September 30, 2010, the benchmark was MSCI Arabian Markets and Africa Index Net. Prior to July 1, 2009, the benchmark was S&P IFCG Africa and Middle East ex-Saudi Arabia and ex-Israel Net. Prior to September 1, 2008, this benchmark also excluded Kuwait. The benchmark changes were made because the portfolio manager viewed the new benchmark composition to be a better representation of the investment strategy of the fund. Historical benchmark representations have not been restated. The fund(s) may have other share classes available that offer different investment minimums and fees. See the prospectus for details.

By definition, the beta of the benchmark is 1.00. An investment with a beta of 1.10 is expected to perform 10% better than the index in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Usually, higher betas represent riskier investments. Figures are calculated using monthly data and are net of fees.
