Risk and Reward Profile

1	2	3	4	5	6	7
---	---	---	---	---	---	---

The value of an investment in the fund can go up and down. When you sell your shares, they may be worth less than what you paid for them. If your currency as an investor is different from the subscription currency of the fund, changes in currency exchange rates could reduce any investment gains or increase any investment losses.

The risk/reward rating above is based on medium-term volatility (actual or estimated variations in the fund's share price over five years). Going forward, the fund's actual volatility could be lower or higher, and its rated risk/reward level may be changed.

The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

The fund is in the category shown because it invests in a segment of the market that is moderately volatile.

The fund's risk level reflects the following:

- As classes, stocks and bonds carry higher risks than money market securities.

MAIN RISKS TYPICALLY ASSOCIATED WITH ORDINARY MARKET CONDITIONS

The fund's main risks are at least partially reflected in the risk/reward number. The most important of these risks are:

Capital erosion When insufficient income is received by the fund, charges may be paid against capital. Investors should be aware that if deductions are made from capital, this will result in capital erosion and constrain capital growth.

China Interbank Bond Market A fund investing in such a market is subject to liquidity, volatility and regulatory risks. Furthermore, the fund may incur significant trading and realisation costs and may even suffer losses when selling such investments. It may also be exposed to risks associated with settlement procedures and default of counterparties and the risks of default or errors on the part of the onshore settlement agent.

Emerging markets Emerging markets are less established than developed markets and therefore involve higher risks.

Small and mid-cap stock Stocks of small and mid-size companies can be more volatile than stocks of larger companies.

TERMS TO UNDERSTAND

Equities (stocks) Securities that represent partial ownership of a company.

Derivatives Financial instruments whose value is linked to one or more rates, indexes, share prices or other values.

Hedging Seeking to reduce or cancel out exposure to various investment risks.

The Sub-Fund may appeal to investors who:

- are interested in a combination of income and investment growth
- understand and can accept the risks of the fund, including the risks of investing in equities, bonds and derivatives.

Income generated by the fund is reinvested and included in the value of its shares.

Orders to buy, switch and redeem shares are ordinarily processed any day that is a full bank business day in Luxembourg.

Orders received and accepted by 13:00 CET on a business day will generally be processed that day.

Style Different investment styles typically go in and out of favor depending on market conditions and investor sentiment. At any given time, for instance, a growth-style portfolio may underperform a value-style portfolio, or vice-versa, and either may at any time underperform the market as a whole.

MAIN RISKS TYPICALLY ASSOCIATED WITH UNUSUAL MARKET CONDITIONS

Unusual market conditions or large unpredictable events can amplify the fund's main risks. They can also trigger other risks, such as:

Counterparty An entity with which the fund does business could become unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the fund.

Default The issuers of certain bonds could become unable to make payments on their bonds.

Derivatives Certain derivatives could behave unexpectedly or could expose the fund to losses that are significantly greater than the cost of the derivative.

Liquidity Any security could become hard to value or to sell at a desired time and price.

Operational A fund may be subject to errors affecting valuation, pricing, accounting, tax reporting, financial reporting, and trading, among other things. In addition, in any market, but especially in emerging markets, there could be losses due to fraud, corruption, political or military actions, the seizure of assets, or other irregular events.

A more detailed description of the risks that apply to the fund is set out in the section "Risk Descriptions" in the prospectus.
