Risk and Reward Profile

1	2	3	4	5	6	7
---	---	---	---	---	---	---

The value of an investment in the fund can go up and down. When you sell your shares, they may be worth less than what you paid for them. If your currency as an investor is different from the subscription currency of the fund, changes in currency exchange rates could reduce any investment gains or increase any investment losses.

The risk/reward rating above is based on medium-term volatility (actual or estimated variations in the fund's share price over five years) but is not a reliable indicator of future risk reward profile.

The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

The fund is in the category shown because it invests in a segment of the market where volatility is moderately high.

The fund's risk level reflects the following:

- As a class, stocks carry higher risks than money market securities and bonds.
- Emerging markets have higher volatility than developed markets.

MAIN RISKS TYPICALLY ASSOCIATED WITH ORDINARY MARKET CONDITIONS

The fund's main risks are at least partially reflected in the risk/reward number. The most important of these risks are:

Capital erosion When insufficient income is received by the fund, charges may be paid against capital. Investors should be aware that if deductions are made from capital, this will result in capital erosion and constrain capital growth.

Country risk Saudi Arabia - It is necessary in Saudi Arabia to use a trading account to buy and sell securities. Trading account may be subject to the risks of operational error, fraud and broker defaulting.

Emerging markets Emerging markets are less established than developed markets and therefore involve higher risks.

Frontier markets The securities markets of small nations that are at an earlier stage of economic and political development relative to more mature emerging markets typically have limited investability and liquidity.

TERMS TO UNDERSTAND

Equities (stocks) Securities that represent partial ownership of a company.

Derivatives Financial instruments whose value is linked to one or more rates, indexes, share prices or other values.

Hedging Seeking to reduce or cancel out exposure to various investment risks.

The Sub-Fund may appeal to investors who:

- are interested in investment growth
- are looking to diversify their equity investments, in particular existing investments in developed markets
- understand and can accept the risks of the fund, including the risks of investing in emerging markets.

Income generated by the fund is reinvested and included in the value of its shares.

Orders to buy, switch and redeem shares are ordinarily processed any day that is a full bank business day in Luxembourg.

Orders received and accepted by 13:00 Luxembourg time on a business day will generally be processed that day.

Small and mid cap stock Stocks of small and mid-size companies can be more volatile than stocks of larger companies.

Style Different investment styles typically go in and out of favor depending on market conditions and investor sentiment. At any given time, for instance, a growth-style portfolio may underperform a value-style portfolio, or vice-versa, and either may at any time underperform the market as a whole.

MAIN RISKS TYPICALLY ASSOCIATED WITH UNUSUAL MARKET CONDITIONS

Unusual market conditions or large unpredictable events can amplify the fund's main risks. They can also trigger other risks, such as:

Operational A fund may be subject to errors affecting valuation, pricing, accounting, tax reporting, financial reporting, and trading, among other things. In addition, in any market, but especially in emerging markets, there could be losses due to fraud, corruption, political or military actions, the seizure of assets, or other irregular events.

A more detailed description of the risks that apply to the fund is set out in the section "Risk Descriptions" in the prospectus.
